SIX NEW HAVEN MEN NOT GUILTY

New Trial Will Be Sought for Five, Declared Counsel After Verdict Was Returned.

[By Associated Press.]

New York, Jan. 10.—Six of the eleven former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, charged by the government with criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were found not guilty late Sunday by the jury that for nearly three months has been trying the case. The jury disagreed on the five others.

Those acquitted were D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Heminway, A. Heaton Robertson, F. F. Brewster and Henry G. McHarg.

The jury disagreed on William Rockefeller, Charles T. Brooker, Chas. M. Pratt, Lewis Cass Ledyard and Edward D. Robbins.

The verdict was returned after fifty-one hours of deliberation and the jury was discharged. The final vote on the five defendants upon whom the jurors could not agree stood eight to four for acquittal.

R. L. Batts, chief counsel for the government, announced that in due time he would move for a new trial of these five. This will be done, he said, before any effort to try the six other former directors of the road who obtained separate trials.

The jurors did not reach their verdict until after they had reported to Judge Hunt earlier in the day that they could not agree. Up to that time—noon—they had been deliberating with a view to bringing in a verdict on the guilt or innocence of the defendants collectively. The court then instructed them to make further efforts to concur, and that if they could not agree upon all, to try and reach a decision on some. The vote on the question of all at that time stood eight to four for acquittal, it was learned.

On returning to the jury room, the jurors unanimously eliminated six defendants. Two of the four jurors, who had voted against the defendants originally, stood firm, however, against the remaining five. Then the other two jurors switched to their original position, leaving eight to four as the final verdict.

S. R. D. SIGN MAY BE DISPLAYED

People of Bryan and Vicinity Anxious to See Big "Prince of Pilsen" Show.

"The Prince of Pilsen," the popular musical comedy claimed to be the most successful entertainment of its class shown in recent years, will be seen at the Colonial Theater tomorrow night. There are more than a score of song hits in this remarkable masterpiece of Pilsley & Laders, and each of them has held an enduring grasp upon public favor. "The Song of the Cities" is one of the most popular of the musical numbers. "The Message of the Violet," "The Tale of the Sea Shell," "The Stein Song," with its chorus of Heidelberg students, and "Pictures in Smoke," are other big song hits that are largely contributive to the emphatic success of this musical play. One of the chief reasons for the continuously sustained interest in this production lies in the fact that it has never been allowed to deteriorate, but has been maintained at the highest possible notch of excellence.

Seats are selling exceptionally fast, and the present outlook bespeaks a crowded house.
